Why Idaho consumes less calories on average: Average US calories = 267.25Idaho calories = 266.67 (Rank 23 out of 49) $\Sigma + \downarrow$ $\Sigma + \uparrow$

```
\Sigma-\uparrow
                                                                 ∑-↓
                                   Σ
                                                    1. bacon+↑
                                         11. bacon fat+↑
                                        ⊔15. peanut butter+↑
                                        16. butter+↑
                                       19. cookie dough+↑
                                       23. \text{ pecans} + \uparrow
                                       34. \text{ cashews} + \uparrow
                                       35. pistachios+↑
                                       37. cheeseburger+↑
Food rank
                                       38. oats+↑
                                       40. \text{ almonds} + \uparrow
                                       48. onion rings+↑
                                       56. fortune cookie+↑
                                       <sup>1</sup>59. turkey bacon+↑
                                       71. cream cheese frosting+↑
                                       79. rice cakes+↑
                                       84. corn flakes+↑
                                       85. chocolate cake+↑
                                       93. pecan pie+↑
                                       95. candy bar+↑
                                       113. cheese+\uparrow
                                       118. breadsticks+↑
                                       120. goat cheese+↑
```

-5

Per food phrase caloric shift